2) How does the ring episode have a comic effect in the play? * 3/3

The ring episode is an important part of the play as it has a comic effect in the play. and also offers relief after the intense trial scene. Nerissa imitating her mistress and asking for her own ring disguised as a man from Gratiano, reflects the culture of the people of a humble background trying to imitate the ways and manners of the noble people. Both ladies plan to quarrel with their husbands and accuse them of giving away their rings to some women. They want to have some good fun at expense of their husbands.

3) What are the contents of the deed as referred to, in this scene? How would the deed benefit Lorenzo? * 3/3

The deed referred to in this scene is the legal document prepared by Portia which Shylock has to obey. The contents of the deed are that - Shylock property and wealth will go to Lorenzo and Jessica after his death. Lorenzo would be benefited as he would be getting a lot of wealth and property. He would be happy with such a beneficial deed.
